Close call for Curet in Dunbar-90 crash

Larry Curet, 21 year old Sheriff and Mrs. Fred narrowly escaped death the car which he was driving was demolished in a head-on collision with a large oil tank truck Friday. Damages to truck amounted to $1,300.

The mishap occurred at the junction of U.S. 90 and Dunbar in a number of similar incidents in recent months, Curet's vehicle, heading on Dunbar, was almost directly on the center strip of the west bound lane, past the traffic signal when car of the truck, operated by James Lambert of Meraux, La., collided with the right side of the patrol car; the trailer, then colliding with the rear, before stopping on the south side of the roadway, some 300 feet from the site of first impact.

Both drivers were taken to Hancock General Hospital. Young Curet remains under Mississippi Forestry Commission announced that pine purchasing will begin about September 2, the only species which accepted this year is pine. The cones will be purchased at the rate of $2.00 per pound. Pine cones will be purchased at Hancock Tower on Tuesday and Thursday from 1:00 - 5:00 p.m.

Last year the Mississippi Forestry Commission paid more than $3,000 to residents of Hancock County for collecting pine cones. The quota this year is less than it was last year, however it is believed that all cones which are gathered during the collection period will be bought.

This is an excellent opportunity for groups or individuals to take in extra money, however persons interested in collecting cones should start gathering them as soon as possible since the cone collection period is fairly short. Anyone desiring information on cone collection may contact the personnel at Hancock Tower on

Paving deadline near

City expects repeat of Apr. 26, petitions of street bond defeat

Committee for better city government expressed confidence that there will be a sufficient number of names on petitions to call for an election on city street pavement and improvements, before the deadline 10 a.m. Friday, Aug. 30.

Spokesmen for the committee stated: "It is not necessary for taxpayers to wait until Friday to file petitions; they may do so at any time, either in person or by mail."

Scafide stated: "No citizen needs legal representation to file, and I urge anyone who has been misled about or is in doubt regarding the program, which is exactly the same as in April, come to city hall and feel free to look at engineering reports on file and ask any questions necessary." He also reiterated the original $2 front foot assessment is all the project is to cost property owners."

John Scafide, Bay mayor and Commissioner J. Cyril Glover anticipate pretty much of a re-run of the April 26, filings of objectors petitions, with one notable difference -- the legal notice has been corrected to comply with the Aug. 9, judicial ruling on validation proceedings.

In the spring proceedings, about 200 objectors crowded into city hall, protesting street restoration by a $2 per front foot assessment, and 4 miles for bonds to finance the work. After a check of 85 city streets, scheduled for paving and drainage, only 21; about 25 percent, were protested, after all streets and termination points were adjudicated.

Mayor Scafide will not be present at the time of Friday's deadline, as he and Mrs. Scafide leave Friday for their son's wedding in Greenville, but Commissioner Glover, acting mayor pro-tem and Commissioner Warren Traub will be in council at 10 a.m.

Spokesmen for the committee for better city government expressed confidence that there will be a sufficient number of names on petitions to call for an election on city street pavement and improvements, before the deadline 10 a.m. Friday, Aug. 30.

The committee counted 76 heads at a protest rally Friday night in Hancock County courthouse, after calling the meeting in order to advise taxpayers affected by the proposed bond issue, of their legal rights, and procedures required to protect these rights.

Earl Ramond, committee chairman, conducted the meeting and spoke of efforts to seek approval of the city advisory group, composed of about 50 local businessmen, for a more reasonable street program; stating that he was very much in favor of repairing the streets under a more acceptable plan, and at no added expense to taxpayers.

Attorney Nicholas Haas explained legal requirements involved in the proposed bond issue.

Next, Dr. Andrew Martino, stated he was aware of the need for street repairs and explained that this work was promised by the city in the sewer and drainage bond issue. He also pointed out that the city had promised pictures both before and after work was done to assure the taxpayers of a good job. He said: "The dismal failure of this proposal is now history and we are faced with the task of rebuilding the streets"; adding: "I am not in agreement with the 4th proposal and highly recommend a 100 percent citywide protest.

Ramond's closing remarks reiterated recommendation for protest action 'before it is too late'. He stated: "There is no price tag on this construction and the City Fathers can charge you and give you the bill to pay."

Bay-Municipal schools to lose Federal funds would deny rights of individual citizens and they recommended that the district operate under a plan approved by HEW in '66.

McCullough told city officials that he had informed the school board of receiving of official notice from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW), that the district was in non-compliance and would lose all federal aid, which amounted to a little over $50,000 last year; unless they managed to come up with program acceptable to HEW before Sept. 13.

Three possible solutions were discussed at the Aug. 23, board meet.

Zoning of schools--meaning roughly that all students living north of U.S. 90 would attend Bay Senior High and North-Bay Elementary; those in central school area, Bay Junior High and those west-southwest, Valena C. Jones and Waveland. Zoning was ruled out as monies are now available for enlarging facilities at either institution.

HEW suggested grades pairing--sending third and fourth graders, for instance, now attending North Bay to Valena C. Jones, and vice-versa.

Or, closing Valena C. Jones completely. This was also judged impractical, as crowding conditions imposed upon other schools by the influx would be detrimental to all students.

The position of the board is that any of the above plans is acceptable.

Keith Warden, 319 Cedar Point Road, was operating the skiff when the 40 horsepower motor apparently failed. He stood to check the outboard, which started with a jerk, and was thrown into the water. He managed to swim out of reach of the propeller and was picked up by two young sailors, Quentin Stumpf and Beau Lapeyere in Lapeyere's boat.

City Police notified Lucien Kidd, Civil Defense director, who arrived on the scene on North Beach Blvd, accompanied by Buck Ladner.

Lapeyere's boat was again pressed into use. Kidd and Ladner first attempted to halt the pilotless craft by hurling a heavy coil of rope into the propeller, but speed of the motor fouled the rope, almost jerking Kidd from the boat.

Rescue was effected when they utilized wake from Lapeyere's motor to force the run away to shore. Ladner jumped into the skiff and cut-off the motor as it was slowed by shallow water.

Ladner stated that he would have used his bloodhound, Track's assistance if only the animal had been taught to operate a boat!

Approbation of a run-away 14-foot skiff, circling rapidly in the Bay of St. Louis north of the highway bridge caused more than minor problems for officials Friday afternoon.

Approve budget, at port meet

Regarding the budget of $111,000, Hill remained optimistic, hoping this industrial base will become as prominent in Hancock County as it is in the rest of the state. "We hope to attract more industry," he said.

FROM THE: VINEYARD GAZETTE MARTH'S VINEYARD, MASS.

Failure of the state legislature to enact the comprehensive alcoholism treatment and rehabilitation bill offered by Attorney General Richardson is one of the most regrettable omissions of the year. The measure would have eliminated the crime of public intoxication unaccompanied by disorderly conduct, an objective universally regarded as sound.

It would have established centers for the immediate care of intoxicated persons and alcoholics, and civil--as opposed to criminal--commitment at such facilities for sufferers from alcoholism. It would have coordinated the treatment and rehabilitation of alcoholics with the program of community mental health centers of the state Department of Mental Health.

So the dreadful grist of the district courts such as ours on the Vineyard must go on and on--treating drunkenness as criminal though the fact that it is an illness, a compulsive illness, is an established part of all modern awareness. Our state legislators should be educated not only by qualified specialists in medicine and psychiatry but also by those other qualified specialists, the members of A.A. Attendance at the meetings of A.A. on the Vineyard, for instance, would provide an urgent sort of enlightenment.

A Conservative View

by James J. Kilpatrick

CHICAGO - It is probable that Senator Eugene McCarthy never had any realistic hope of winning the Democratic presidential nomination. Whatever lingering prospects he may have had went down the drain with his shockingly inept reaction to the events of the past few days.

Lyndon Johnson, to his lasting credit, responded admirably to the Czechoslovakian crisis. He gave somber voice to the shocked conscience of the world; he denounced the invasion of a defenseless country; he charged the Soviet masters with flat violation of the UN charter; and he saw to it that Ambassador George Ball, in the Security Council, flayed the Soviet invaders with scorn and cold contempt.

Richard Nixon reacted with identical maturity. The invasion, he said, "violates the basic spirit of human decency." The voices of all who value freedom ought now to demand the removal of those troops, and those who wish for long-term peace must also hope that the Soviets reconsider this brutal act.

In the midst of a political convention, it is perhaps unavoidable that one reacts politically to the news from Europe.

It looks as if we are due for a new President. Well, I and many more are hoping that he is not suffering from the "Mother Complex" which, of course, undermines his manhood.

This has been a common disease in the western part of the world for centuries past. The main reason for this is that the countries involved have been under the control of the Widow that had no husband; of course, yet what have their studies taught them? How could they have labored so long and learned so little? Hamlet set it down a long time ago that one may smile, and smile, and be a villain; but the doves would not survive her; two sons, George J. Kambur and Anthony J. Kambur; three daughters, Mrs. George Kambur Ward and Mrs. Andrea Kambur Matherne, all of New Orleans, and Mrs. Elaine Kambur Cloris of New Mexico; and two brothers, Theodore Tomaszewski and James Tomaszewski, both of New Orleans.

Mrs. Thomas J. Russo, the former Antonette (Lena) Vacarro, died at 3 p.m., Friday, August 23, in New Orleans. Residents of New Orleans, the Russos' owned a summer home in Waveland.

Funeral services were held Monday from Sharp-Sonthamer-Loudounley Funeral Home, followed by requiem mass at St. Francis Cabrini Church, Interment in St. Vincent de Paul No. 1 Cemetery.

Talks were centered on contemporary problems in liturgical worship. Speakers on this topic included Father Donald Martin, S.J., chairman of the theology department, Spring Hill College, Mobile, Alabama; Father Henry Fehren, columnist for the U.S. Catholic; and Father John May, S.J., director of liturgy, Jesuit House of Studies, Mobile, Alabama.

Joseph Wiss, who directed the liturgies of the last two national liturgical conferences, spoke on the topic of the twenty-four Hour Eucharist. He also organized and directed the liturgical ceremonies held during the three day convention.

The next thing that is Nature,

by study of the past six Sun

ages, it involves enormous power, a power that man cannot understand. We know that the Earth has turned over three times; North has become

South, and South has become

North, and again at one time,

instead of the Earth revolving to the East, it had revolved itself and revolved to the West;

again every calamity that Man could possibly conceive has taken place during the past Sun

ages and the Earth, like Man, is linked to the Sun which is the symbol of the Great Pyramid.

Nature has provided Man

over a course of Time with a multitude of Super Men. Watching the lid of a bottle, a young

Scotch boy got the idea of inventing the steam engine, which was the beginning of modern industry.

Marx, real Economy - Georges

only Pirate since Captain Rock.

Theater echoes

By L'Inconnu

Last night at the theater, we were and will have no doubt. Masters, actors and their themselves was a real variety of talents. "Tales of the South," Expertly directed by Mckinney, who gave audience "The Tales" two years ago, South worked its wittiness. In fact, this is at the theater, not only the magical music with a deep sense of astonishment. Some seemed incredible that bees and nurses, these speaking South Sea Islanders U.S. Navy officer in broad daylight and beauticians, and high school students, housewives space-age techniques professionally and perhaps the great achievement of all, to one often seen the bare, stage of the theater, the swift transformation from one lovely scene to another times in act I alone! mountain-top garden the opening of the bamboo hut of Bloody artistry, mechanics, hard work involved, staggering to see, and Cal and Karen directed all this effort many people, cannot highly commended. All who for some reason attend this outstanding will miss what be a musical and treat for every audience.

As they spoke and sang entirely in French. Even though the numbers of people in the cast and the various work groups are almost astronomical, it's a temptation to name them all and give every one of them a big gold star for excellence. The music was a joy to hear, and special plaudits go to Lt. John Kelly, pianist from Keeler Field, for his professional skill in accompanying a play of this sort. Burt Barrett as production director and Pete Chapman as stage manager overcame unsurmountable obstacles and solved unsolvable problems to effect the smooth performance they achieved. In fact, to stage such a production, to paint the scenery, coordinate the lights, sound, and

BEST WISHES

Just so some of our DST lovers won't think we're mellowing with age, and as we have only two more months of artificial hours ahead, we'll pass on a secret of survival for those whose systems react badly to midnight mornings and daylight nights!

Drat that clock!

It's simply a process of mind over matter. When the dreaded April day arrived, we touched not one clock—just had daughter Catchie do the dirty deed—and went to bed exactly an hour earlier than usual. Then came the difficult stage—mentally ignoring the fact that it was really only 6 a.m. when the alarm went off at 7. In fact we fear we've done such a good job of self-hypnosis that a just might require some real psychiatric therapy to get straightened out come the end of October!

Wow!!!!

That bit of slanguage is perhaps a trifle crude, but there just aren't enough words in anyone's vocabulary to adequately describe the wedding and reception Rosemary and Leroy McFarland tossed for their next-to-oldest daughter Rosalie. The church was breathtaking, but we'll leave that description up to Mrs. Favre who does such a beautiful job on such details. The bride's gown may be admired in the picture which should be on this same page and bridesmaids' full-length turquoise frocks were complemented by bouquets of bright golden tea roses.

Rosie and Charles made a strikingly handsome couple as they danced, alone for the first number, were joined by equally handsome sets of parents and the bridal party before guests began dancing and continued for hours and hours. The bride's mother looked much too young to have daughters of marriageable age, in her long formal which was color keyed to those of bridesmaids, and Mrs. Wilkinson was lovely in a similar formal in a dusty rose shade.

Bayside Park country club was elaborately decorated inside and out with a profusion of white flowers and tall tapers in numerous candelabra. Even the swimming pool glistened with blossoms upon the surface, and food and drink flowed as freely as water in the pool.

We would like to list names of guests and could probably recall those of a couple of hundred, which would mean over 400 would be left out, so best we don't try—but if everyone else enjoyed the affair as much as did your reporter, it will be the talk of the town for years and years to come.

Happy, happy hour

Despite the fact that Chamber of Commerce Secretary Caro-line Klefer and Charlie Hill, port director, were both forced to miss the big membership dinner and happy hour at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club Wednesday night, all went beautifully—and we must comment it was one of the happiest Happy Hours to date. Hosts Gerry Lane and Lamar Smith; Johnson Shaw and Terry Feeney provided bountifully. Nel Ducomb and Caroline's daughter, Laurie Byrd helped complete arrangements and Russell Elliott emceed for Charlie. Incidentally Caroline was still hospitalized, but we saw her Friday and she looks ever so much better. Charlie should be back on the job before we go to press, although he was running a 105 degree temp the night of the banquet.

Key for Sherry

Ames Kergosien and board members performed introducing duties when necessary. Johnny Scafide presented Hancock County's All-Star basketball champ Sherry Dean with a key to the city, and Eddie Khayat, at his witty best, had everyone all but wanting to go right out and buy a bayou or something when he described riches gained by Jackson County since completion of their port and harbor facilities.

We could never list everyone present, but a few included Rebecca Seal and son Leo; Bob Hamilton; Faye, Ann, Eunice and Lou, wives of the happy hour hosts, of course, Billy Burrow and his pretty wife; June and Paul White, Jill and Gerald Gex, Norton Haas, Sr.; Myrt and Mike Haas, Linda and Nicholas Haas; Alice Scafide was with Johnny; Laurent Kergosien, Mavis and Wilson Webre, Bobbie and Henry Maggio, John McDonald, Leroy Hall, Al Summy, Ellen Payne, Bud Moreau, the Joe Cuevas; Nancy and Charlie Russ, Ruth and Fred Curet, Marion Elliott, Ann and Dix Ashman, Dorothy and Joe Marochino, John Gallagher, Bernice and Joe McCullough, Joe Palazzo, and wife; Boogie Dean, the Pack Mauffrays, and ever so many more.

Although Dr. Frank Hava must be referred to as a "new physician in town," he really isn't. Frank, who was among guest at the show mentioned late, is a nephew of our good friend Dick Walker Hava, and a "first cousin" of the late Drs. Rudy and Edie Hava. His offices are in one of the new brick depots on highway 90 on Waveland Ave. And—good news in this frequently escort starved community, he is presently married!

More birthdays

Greetings to Mr. Ed Harris, former Wavelander who now gets his Echo in Meridian, Miss. He cut his cake on Tuesday, Aug. 27—“Miss Kate” Marquez, here was Aug. 21—Harold Saucier also celebrated last week, but we forgot the exact date—Willie (Wee Willie) Thibeaux found seven candles on his cake on Aug. 23 and Tony Piazza was 76, although he certainly neither looks nor acts it—on Thursday, Aug. 22.

We're really into this note but didn't discover until Saturday that Linda Kay, mother of dashing restaurateur Jack Kay, spent her birthday, July 26, as a patient in Hancock General Hospital.

Their many local friends will be pleased to learn that Adelaide and Col. Alfred McCaleb, who now live in Hawaii where he is stationed, are expectant parents.

Angela and Glen Rose are also on the work's itinerary. Harry (Carl) Ladner, our editor, is the youngest young man in the office. We

The bride entered the church, decorated with a profusion of flowers in fan shaped arrangements and in baskets and tapers in candelabras; on the arm of her father. She chose her sister Miss Sara Dale McFarland as maid of honor. The wedding party received guests at Bayside Park Country Club following the wedding. Mrs. Lori Fassnacht cut the wedding cake on the bride's table which was covered in white satin, overlaid with tulle. Similax and gardenia entwined the cake. The serving table was centered with a large heart carved of ice encircled with fern and fleur d'amour; gardenias and similax were arranged about the silver punch bowl. Nancy McDonald, Ann Perkins, Ann Miller, Millie Church, Susan Rulledge and Janet Ellis were tea girls.

After returning from their honeymoon to an undisclosed destination, the young couple will be at home in Oxford, Miss. Where Mr. Wilkinson will receive his degree from the University of Mississippi in the spring.

Behind every man you see out of Electric Power Associations, there are many men and women planning and working for progress. Not that the man in the line isn't important—he's a part of the chain of success in supplying power to Mississippians at a price they can pay.

Real progress calls for inspired, heroic leadership . . . the kind of leadership led by the men and women who are determined to setting the pace for progress through time.

Only a few years ago, EPAs in Mississippi supplied the leadership to bring power into areas where it was not otherwise available on reasonable terms. Most of them are still working along with a new generation of pace-setters, finding ways to improve service, lower costs and assure a constant power supply.

The directors, management, employees and member-owners of Electric Power Associations work hand-in-hand so Mississippians can produce more at less cost. Pace-setters are making progress for Mississippians.

Bobby Jones saves day for sluggers

The St. Rose Sluggers almost got knocked off Sunday at Ocean Springs but instead upped their season record to 17-3 defeating OS 9-8 in a regulation nine-inning semi-pro game.

In the bottom of the ninth, Ocean Springs had the tying run on third and the winning run on second with only one out but Slugger twirler Bobby Jones ended the threat fanning the hard batter and forcing the next to fly to left field, ending the game.

Winston Osbourne started on the mound for the Sluggers and was followed by Bobbie Lizzana who got credit for the win hurling the 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th innings. Jones pitched the 8th and 9th.

Harold Price and Sanders Bell each got a single and a triple; Marshal Hattix, two singles; Winston Osbourne and Billy Ray Farworth, each a triple, and Willie Bradley a single. The Sluggers scored all nine runs in the first three innings.

The Sluggers play a double-header Sunday on St. Rose de Limon's diamond, the first game starting at 1 p.m. - the long awaited return go with the Bay All Stars, postponed from last month. The Stars hold a 2-1 victory over the Sluggers who will be out for revenge.

Harry Mathis, manager of the Bay All Stars, will probably start with Mills Strong or Claude Yarborough on the mound while Slugger field manager Willie Nelson said he will either go with Andrew Nash or Winston Osbourne.

At 3:30 p.m., the Sluggers play a return match with Ocean Springs, the games being played in conjunction with St. Rose de Limon's annual fair.

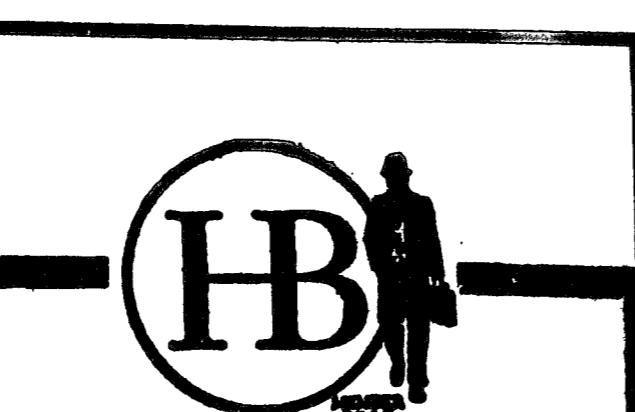

On Monday in the same spot at 3 p.m., in the annual "old" vs. young men game.
